NOTES:

Safety & Security: US citizens are encouraged to enroll in the Smart Traveler Enrollment Program, to stay current with the latest safety and security announcements dispersed by the Embassy in your area. Your enrollment can also help the Department of State reach your family and friends in case of emergency. Regular protests, some with an anti-American flavor, take place outside Congress, City Hall and the Universidad de la Republica (University of the Republic). U.S. citizens visiting or residing in Uruguay are advised to take common-sense precautions and avoid any large gatherings or any other event where crowds have congregated to demonstrate or protest. If travelers encounter a protest they should walk the other way or enter a commercial establishment until the protest passes. Taking pictures of protesters is not a good idea. Although there have been no past instances of violence directed at U.S. citizens from cross-border extremist groups, U.S. citizens traveling or residing in the more remote areas of Uruguay near the borders with Argentina and Brazil are urged to exercise caution.

Criminal Penalties: Persons violating Uruguay's laws, even unknowingly, may be expelled, arrested, or imprisoned. Penalties for possession, use, or trafficking in illegal drugs in Uruguay are severe, and convicted offenders can expect long jail sentences and heavy fines. The Uruguayan Ministry of Agriculture and Fishing strictly enforces all regulations regarding hunting permits, as well as seasonal and numerical limits on game. Visitors who contravene local law have been detained by the authorities and had valuable personal property (weapons) seized. Under Uruguayan law, seized weapons can only be returned after payment of a sum equivalent to the value of the property seized. Hunters are also subject to stiff fines for practicing the sport without all appropriate permits.

Sporting Guns: Sporting gun must be packed near the container door. Upon arrival guns will be taken to the Service of Material & Armament for safekeeping until all of Customer's documentation is cleared at Customs and permission is obtained to collect the guns.

Fumigation of Wood Packing Materials: Uruguay adopted ISPM15 standards for wood packaging material (WPM).
